Rising Stars 2024

The 2024 private debt Rising Stars list of 40 individuals under the age of 40 whom we believe have the potential to shape the future of the asset class.

John Lister
Partner, Latham & Watkins, 36

Based in Latham & Watkins' Chicago office, John Lister is a key relationship partner for some of the firm's largest private credit clients and has continued to cultivate long-standing relationships with core clients such as Antares Capital, MidCap Financial, Morgan Stanley Private Credit and Audax Private Debt. His experience spans a broad spectrum of deal types, with expertise in specialised industry verticals that require unique structuring considerations, including leveraged buyout and sponsor-backed platforms within the healthcare, accounting and franchise spaces. He has expanded his practice to support clients' continued expansion into asset-based direct lending, recurring revenue transactions and most recently into structuring some of the first leveraged buyout transactions of accounting firms – a new frontier within private equity and private credit.
